Watching on at the inaugural UNSW City vs Country match – M Slater, J Dixon, D Christian and P Serov

Above: Crewers hands on the Barr-Turn jacket to a very deserving recipient – “Alfie” Langdon.

Below: Andrew Neilan was the leading 1st Grade keeper in Sydney and a worthy winner of the Club Fielding award. Shaker doing his best to make two otherwise ordinary blokes look good.

COACHING REPORT

My first Report as Club Coach...a report on a year that saw us "soar" from a decidedly mediocre 12th in the Club Championship last season to an extremely ordinary 16th this year. On the basis of those raw facts I probably should hand in my resignation right here and now in this appropriate public forum.

But I am encouraged by what some have said to me about the higher standards of trainings and am keen to keep going and see if our Club Championship performance can head substantially in a positive direction next season. I know it will because our Club Championship performance normally mirrors that of 1st Grade and there is already a much more committed and enthused attitude among the higher grade players for next season. This is a direct result of the fact that Warren Smith will be taking on the 1st Grade and "Elite" batting and fielding coach role next season. This is a most welcome and needed development for the Club and particularly for the higher grade players – I do hope the signs these players are displaying in the off season extend into the pre-season and season proper as they will need this to improve on their performances (read thinking, commitment and attitude) last year.

Most people who know me understand that I have trouble compiling a "Report" as such and easily lapse into essay and opinion...the following is no exception. But please indulge me as I try to summarise some of the issues I steadfastly believe we need to overcome if we are to dominate grade cricket. Hearteningly, some of these issues seem to be being dealt with if what I am seeing from the higher grade players now (mentioned already above) is a good indication.

Throughout the Club the vast majority of players continue to play, train and otherwise prepare for their cricket at levels far below what is needed of grade cricketers and far below what they are capable of. And it is not as though players have not been informed of the need for greater efforts and thought...Henry and I (at least) say it all the time and have done so for years.

My big disappointment is not necessarily our lowly Club Championship showing, as winning is not the goal per se...it is, of course, a common outcome if our real goals are achieved (ie enjoying our cricket and putting in maximum effort to ensure we play as well as we can for the benefit of our team/Club). But it is these real goals that are seemingly miles away from achievement, although it is hoped that Warren's involvement at the Club next year will help change this, at least in the higher grades.

In our "Player's Handbook 2003/04" I included a fairly extensive discussion of what I was looking for, as Club Coach, from players at training and in their broader preparation for playing at the high standards required of grade cricket. I feel like people must, regardless of what they say to my face, not take me seriously, because I would suggest that no more than perhaps 3 or 4 players could tell me I even wrote this "Coaches Message", let alone know what I had asked from the Club players. Perhaps I should have constantly been testing people on it...and perhaps that is what I will do next season...but it seems to me to be symptomatic of a Club Culture that has been developing for way too long. A culture of feeling (even knowing) you are a talented cricketer and being satisfied (normally within yourself) that the experience of going out each match day and feeling like you have tried hard is sufficient. Any preparation required for that match day effort is something other people (ie the Club) need to place on the proverbial platter (silver spoon?) for them.

Cricket is not to live and die for and I appreciate at least as much as anyone that there are plenty of more important things in life. And yes, the Club can and should try to co-ordinate and run better practices for the benefit of its playing members...a task I specifically wanted to do and believe I had at least a modicum of success with in Season 2003/04. But that is not the point! The point is that individuals need to understand that Grade cricket requires significant individual (and team) preparation and effort if we want to perform as well as we can and, much more importantly, not let your team and club mates down. And that effort is not really that onerous if people think about what they are doing and use their time wisely (even, perhaps, reading the Club Coach's message and understanding what he is trying to do). But it will ALWAYS be up to the individual to make what he will out of the opportunities available in Grade cricket – and most of our Club miss that point. There are plenty of people worth listening to and learning from at this great Club so everyone should make use of that resource...but please, each and every individual, put in "the hard yards" that are so often talked about and required. Your team, the Club and yourself will benefit immensely from some additional effort and thought. I hope that next season a Pom (like Bill Kirby last season) will not be the best, smartest and most committed person at each training session.

Thanks to Henry for his (always) wise words on the coaching front and for getting involved much more than his time really permits. The "Club Legend" of Club Legends. Also to Ferls for introducing some handy fielding drills and doing a great job with the Green Shield side in difficult circumstances. Thanks to Shaker for doing so much to try to instill a fitness consciousness in some very lazy club members, and to Ollie for stepping into that breach on a few occasions. As always, the practises only run as smoothly and effectively as they do through the tireless and selfless contribution of Peter Richardson in organising the net sessions, helping me set things up and pull them down at the end of practises (a lot of it done on his own), and being a great resource to tap into for ideas and training options.

Bring on 2004/05!

SECOND GRADE REPORT

There are many “if’s, but’s and maybe’s” that we could cite throughout the season as reasons for missing the finals in second grade (by one point). Indeed we don’t even have to look past just one of our two losses on the final ball of the day. Had we won just one of these games we would have made the finals. Or what if rain had have washed out or interrupted two matches that we lost, rather than matches where we were defending 350 and 310?

One thing I know for sure is that these things happen for a reason, and the reality is that the majority of lads (on average) that played 2’s this season needed to work 10-20% harder at training on all aspects of our game. Hard work brings better luck and I’m sure at least one of these matches would have gone our way had we trained harder throughout the course of the season.

We certainly didn’t suffer from a lack of quality playing personnel. In fact 24 players played at least one match in 2’s. The stars of our season have their name in bold for the rest of this report: Todd Hoare took out the best batsman award whilst Tim Buckett was our best bowler. Our best fieldsman was Kenny Bingham, firstly with the keeping gloves and then fielding in the gully.

The following highlights are well worth remembering as a recipe for winning games in the future:

- Round 11 - Beating Balmain, who were leading the comp, by 4 runs after being reduced to 5-25 in our first innings. Big Omar skittled their tail taking 4/7 in 6 overs, after Jimmy Day, KD and Kenny Bingham rescued the innings.
- Round 5 - Sohey and Bucko’s cool, calm and collected run-a-ball partnership of 90 to steer us home against Penrith
- Round 14 – A phenomenal effort to beat Randwick outright: chasing 189 off 21 overs in the 2nd innings - with Jimmy Day hitting a pair of 30 not outs and taking 7 wickets for the match.
- Round 4 - Chasing down ND’s 365 - a superb team batting effort, highlighted by solid top order partnerships and Bandit notching up a well compiled century.
- Round 15 - Flogging Hawkesbury at Hawkesbury. We rolled them for 71, with Lucky Taylor taking 5 wickets after Pablo hit 70odd on a slow, wet outfield (which was the equivalent of a century on the VG).

There were, however, some disappointing moments:

- Getting rolled for 38 against the eventual premiers Mosman. We certainly weren’t the only team to get rolled cheaply by Mosman this season, but this innings is a reminder that we need to get our defence watertight from the start of the season and maintain it throughout the season by asking our coaches to view our technique.
- Losing outright to Wests - A bloke of first class potential, playing 2’s for disciplinary reasons, carved up our batting line up. However each of the top 6 faced him for an hour and need to recall this experience the next time we are on 20-odd and the bowling isn’t of such high quality....and then cash in.

But in a highly volatile season, there were definitely more highs than lows and the following players were rewarded for their excellent form during the season with promotion to first grade:

Murray Creed, Hayers, Mocca, Jimmy Day, Tim Cox, Thommo, Hagar and Bandit.

We also saw Scotty Bridges, Hooley Dooley and Locky Taylor make successful debuts in second grade, indicating that they are more than just well placed at this level. Locky in particular had a season to remember after working his way up from 5th grade.

Finally thanks to Disco and Pete Richo for their help and as usual it was an absolute honour to take the field with 23 UNSW comrades during the season and I very much look forward to next season when we can set about winning that elusive premiership flag...

Looks like the 2s boys may have put in a few hard yards this day at the VG. Bingham, Day and Dannenbergsons cooling down in the Sam Cracknell sheds - though I am not sure the cheeky Bingham chuckle is all that infectious on this particular occasion.

THIRD GRADE REPORT

Third Grade cricket at most Clubs, and particularly this Club, consistently proves to be a difficult proposition. What is the secret to quality performances (usually reflected in winning games) for sides at this level in this type of “elite” cricket competition?

Randwick were the successful side this year and Penrith the prior year. I think both teams were eminently beatable opposition but both teams contained 2 key characteristics – very good and experienced captains and reasonably young and ambitious (but STABLE) teams throughout the season.

3rd Grade is a pretty good standard of cricket from whatever angle you look at it. It is a melting pot of “retiring” experienced 1st Graders and young guns who have won their way into 3s on the basis of superior performance as they try to force their way into 1st Grade (and beyond). The successful 3rd Grade outfits have been that style of team with that type of “melting pot” experience...plus STABILITY. UNSW hasn't really had that experience for sometime though I think we did very well this year on the back of players being asked to stand up and perform at levels higher than they have previously proved they can perform at. AND we were an extraordinarily UNSTABLE team (and here I refer to player turnover rather than psychological...though some would argue the reference is equally applicable) as the list of 30 players below would attest.

I think the one and only characteristic we had in common with the successful 3rd grade sides I have mentioned above was the fact that (other than the skipper and Shaker later in the season) we had a majority of players week in, week out, who wanted to play higher grades and wanted to play at their best to try to prove they could do it. Many played 3rd grade when arguably they had not proven they were up to it. But finishing Equal 6th in the competition after fielding a 1st Rd side that more closely resembled last year's 5th grade outfit, I can confidently say that it was a 3rd grade season to be proud of (barring a few notably inept or immature sessions that are discussed below).

Missing playing Finals cricket on percentages is fairly heartbreaking particularly for those who know what a wonderful experience that level of cricket is. But in the end we (as is always the case) mainly had ourselves to blame for the disappointment. As I said, we started with a side full of last year's 5th grade as well as untried players attempting to fill some key roles. And that 1st match against a weak Parramatta line up arguably ended up killing us in our chase for a finals berth. Lachlan Taylor stood up that game with both bat and ball in a style that eventually saw him established in 2nd grade – a meteoric rise for last year's 5th grade tyro and perhaps the ultimate “one finger” salute to selectors who had ignored his talents for too long. But it was the completely lacklustre batting around him that game that revealed the usual UNSW achilles heal. It was miserable batting that continued to hamper us throughout the season...save for a 2 man show against Norths and a pretty good effort in a one dayer against Campbelltown. It was not the start we needed to an important season and with some unfortunate personnel issues throughout the grades.

In saying we had some personnel issues I should probably confess that these issues worked in 3rd grades favour on a few occasions. North Sydney was the obvious one – where we (unexpectedly) win the toss, lose two early wickets, and then sit back to a 1st Grade standard partnership of 250 between Ian Foster (young gun and mainly 2nd grade player last season) and Murray Creed (unknown but destined for 1st Grade and maybe beyond) that shattered Norths and left them almost merciless for the kill on Day 2. And we then rolled out Eric Zehner for that kill (right from ball one) on Day 2...ultimately a 1st grader in 2003/04 and our front line quick in 2s last season...picking up 2 wickets with his first 2 balls with unplayable, quick, in swinging yorkers – and the third ball was an extraordinarily close shout for lbw with a similar gem. Norths battled hard to their credit but they were crushed by 3 top graders playing to their ability in 3s. And then we roll out Shaker and Tim Richo (though Richo's performances were limited and marred by a injury/touristy kind of season) for a few of the latter games.

The games where our own performance killed us: a first round shocker against ultimate wooden spooners, Parramatta (already mentioned); an immature and inept batting display against Sutherland in a game we really couldn't lose; and, vs Bankstown, a costly catch, one man batting show from Bankstown and soft, soft, soft batting from a fairly strong UNSW batting line up.

The games we simply got belted: a low score on DP by a UNSW side containing one recognised, performing batsman...but nevertheless we get the good fortune to defend that score on a wet second weekend only by virtue of the Easts captain generously accepting to play on an adjacent and very wet wicket...and their number 3 plays the most dominant innings seen all year (a chanceless one man show in very difficult batting conditions)...they/he just smacked us and were too good that game; Wests belting us all over the park (except Hoolie) even though they were running near the bottom of the table and then following it up with the most disciplined display of swing bowling you could imagine from an otherwise 4th or 5th grade standard attack...they deserved to smack us (except Hoolie) good and proper; and Randwick, ultimate Premiers, confidently posting a big score with no star batters, and then also following that up with great discipline in the field in a game where 3rd Grade got the chance to play on a 1st Grade (if not 1st Class) ground and pitch – Coogee Oval.

We comprehensively outplayed Norths (already discussed), Balmain, Hawkesbury, Penrith and arguably Campbelltown.

On to the players:

Oliver Higgins was a cricketer and clubman who stood tall this season in this 3rd grade side. The selectors took a position regarding Ollie's keeping role and batting development which saw Ollie playing as an opening bat only for the first ¾ of the season. And when coping with the new batting role was initially proving difficult, a huge dummy spit is what we would expect from plenty of people at the Club these days. But Ollie displayed the most admirable of human characteristics in taking things on the chin and seemingly then just asking himself... "what else can I do for the team and club while I work on trying to improve (and prove) my game". A huge thumbs up from your skipper and Club Coach, Ol – the stuff you showed us this year needs to be bottled. And your successful end to the season with bat and (finally) gloves was a just reward. You have shown how well you can play at 3rd grade level and your strength of character suggests to me that you can do it in even higher grades. I sincerely hope you do.

Lachlan Taylor only played 8 games in 3s before his consistently dominating form with the bat, ball and, particularly, his gutsy efforts in the field, saw him secure a spot in 2s. He tried valiantly to save us against Parramatta, a match winning innings against NDs and bowled brilliantly, without luck, at Bankstown before promotion. A coming of (ripe old) age for Lachy and it was great to witness.

Robbie Dooley meteorically started in 2s after extended stints in the lower grades last year – but this was a genuine reflection of the ability the selectors see in him. He played very well while in 2s only to be the man dropped upon the return of top grade players. His performances in 3s were unpredictable to say the least – though his effort and commitment at training were very predictable (full-on and committed). A couple of rapid spells fired up some pretty handy bats on other teams and shows what might happen when he gets his unorthodox action into gear. Under Shaker's watchful eye from mid off he nearly killed some Sutho batters and he was the only bowler to have an impact in his unlucky 6for on a very docile DP North vs Wests. His batting is potentially top order stuff and his fielding has a lot of potential though needs some constructive assistance. This is definitely a man who can play as an all-rounder in 1st Grade and I hope I see him there one day soon. Plenty of time for a 19 year old.

Peter Maguire was a regular 6th grader last year but his natural skills were enough to see him start in 3s and perform very well there. His batting is underrated (but loose) and his fielding is outstanding whether in the slips or the outfield. And with a bit more pace on those dinky little swingers he could also be a force to be reckoned with in the higher grades. A great team man (will do, and in fact does, virtually anything to help out at team or Club level) and thoughtful presence on the field. Needs to find himself a set of golfsticks the right size though.

Simon Cowan became a regular in 3s and I would be surprised if he ever plays lower than that again. His bowling has the oomph and mongrel that is needed with the new pill, his slips catching was awesome (some fitness work required for next season though for the outfield stuff) and his batting, after nearly being written off as a genuine No11 at the start of the year, was not textbook but is very, very good. A textbook example, though, of understanding your own batting game and playing it sensibly and playing to its strengths. A big season is expected from “big bad Mervyn” next year.

David Mann was a very welcome leg spinning acquisition as the selectors surveyed the talent at pre season net sessions. He had to fight early for a spot in 6s but just persevered, trained hard, and succeeded. Though his 4th grade form was not scintillating he was lucky to get a gig in 3s vs NDs and bowled so well (in fact being one of the main reasons we walked away with a hard fought and tight win) this skipper was eager to have him permanently. He only played 8 games but always contributed significantly. The art of leg spin is the most difficult of persuasions and when MannD is confident he is a match winner. His fielding was often the best in the side. A hard working and thinking cricketer and a fantastic addition to the Club this year.

Ben Clark ventured down from Forster as the second half of the central Coast dynamic duo and immediately showed he can bat exceptionally well. Some fitness and discipline issues need to be overcome to enhance his batting and lift his fielding to satisfactory levels. He is a player to watch as his offies are quality too (if somewhat inconsistent but, to be fair, he had few opportunities to bowl and develop this side of his game).

Jordan Roche has plenty of flair, a great attitude and a personality that will see him enjoy a very happy life at UNSWCC. There are some technical issues and some looseness that needs to be dealt with in his batting but he can play shots that most players merely dream about. Fielding is also a weak (and limiting) point that we need to spend plenty of time on at training to ensure he plays higher grades. - The Club is very happy to welcome this “dynamic duo”.

Roger Smith showed again he is a quality keeper and his batting showed glimpses of the sort of form we were looking for if he was to establish himself in 2s. He played 2s by season end and he is definitely a keeper of that standard. If his batting and broader team/club contributions were spot on he could play even higher.

Scott Bridges returned a little way into the season and made a big contribution to 3s. A quality innings against Balmain set us up to dominate that game and he continued to play well when promoted to 2s. A good fielder in an ordinary fielding team he showed what a difference that can make on a number of occasions, particularly the direct hit run out of the Balmain player who was staging an alarming revival of their innings – the match winning moment coming from one of the fielders and a classic highlighting of how accurate those old fielding adages are.

We had so many other players who participated for anywhere between 1 and 4 games – I would like to thank them all for their efforts on the field. It was a rewarding year for this skipper to see so many players stick their hands up and play well at levels up their previous experiences. We didn't win but I would say we were pretty damn successful.

Shaker steaming in for 3rds from the Southern end at DP North. Hopefully he quickly and completely recovers from an unfortunate car accident recently as he is one of the truly quality Club men going around – can play a bit too.

Big Merv (Simon Cowan) was a good find for the Club this season – seen here bowling from the Northern end at DP North and, in all likelihood, bowling something other than a half volley. Could be a higher grade all rounder next season if his batting form continues in the same vein it finished up this season.

FOURTH GRADE REPORT

In a tale all too familiar in recent seasons, 4th Grade missed out on the 2003/2004 finals by the smallest of margins, finishing equal 5th with two other teams but out of the fun by .04 of a quotient point. This roughly equated to 80 runs or 4 wickets over the course of the season.

Once again we were left to ponder the “what ifs” and on one hand we could fairly say that we received the worst of the weather-affected games this season. The bad end of wet wickets against weaker sides like Easts and Balmain and the first day of the last round being washed out against last placed Hawkesbury hurt us, particularly given that a point was all we required to stay in the hunt. Having said that, we could also point the finger at our poor batting display against another “bottom quarter” side, Sutherland, as another occasion which cost us the worthwhile experience of finals cricket.

There are several certainties in life – death, taxes, and the ability of UNSWCC 4ths to field sides that are equal to any in the competition for one game, and weaker than most in the next. Whether this ebb and flow ultimately translates to finals success is anyone’s guess, usually until the completion of the last round. In the end I suppose this is not vitally important in the overall Club picture so long as along the way we develop some younger cricketers for higher grades who carry with them a good understanding of their own game and of how our club wants our teams to play. Thirty- five blokes played 4ths this season. Those who featured most were:

David Jebb – more of the same. Someone put him out of his misery.

After one game of 3rds, Tal Fleming made the call that he would enjoy his cricket more in 4ths, given that he could only give it, and more particularly practicing it, a moderate priority in his life at this stage. Having a player of his ability, who could be running around in 2nds without too much changing, was of course very much our good fortune, and in the 10 games he played he amassed 405 runs at 50. Three of his innings were probably match-winners

Greg Dennis had his leg kicked to pieces during winter soccer and faced months of strengthening work before he could think about bowling at full tilt. Consequently he decided to have a crack at a lower grade batting spot, a decent challenge for a bloke who had made nine, ten and jack his home for most of his batting career. For him to score a hundred under considerable pressure against Northern Districts was a fine achievement, as was his final tally of 278 runs at 34.75. In most of his innings he displayed an ability to concentrate and stick to his strengths that is rare in our Club. Towards the end of the year he let a few go with the ball and showed enough to indicate that next year will be a big one for him, hopefully in higher grades (and I imagine he will be pretty tidy with the bat wherever that is).

Craig Maxwell established himself as a good 4th Grade all rounder this season, a step up from the previous year. The constantly changing makeup of the side meant that he didn’t always get the situations with the ball that he might have liked, but he never complained, always gave it everything, and was often the best of our pacemen. There was a definite role for him hurrying up the middle order who were accustomed to second and third change bowlers being significantly slower than the earlier pacemen – which was not the case with Maxie. His batting is a great card to have in your hand – he never pisses about and despite not quite winning the never-ending battle he has with his soul to let go and swipe across the line, he played some important innings for us.

After starting off as captain of 2nds Tim Buckett became another to make the call that 4ths was the best scenario for him at this busy stage of his life. His arrival made an immediate and significant difference to the dynamic of our bowling attack. To have over after over of quality at one end allowed us to place real pressure on batting lineups, with the inevitable result of wickets at either end. There was probably an initial personal adjustment for him to make for bowling at lower grade batsmen but once the radar was set the wickets came regularly, to the point where he almost added the 4th bowling award to the 2nds one he had previously/ultimately achieved.

Sadly injury and work took Rob Stark away from us for half a dozen games this season, and this probably hurt us more than we realised. I think in particular of the Easts game where although we did get caught batting on a wet wicket, our bowlers had still gone for 260-plus the week before against a very moderate batting lineup. Anyway, despite his absences he still managed to win the bowling award by sticking to the tried and true Starky formula – line and length, moving away. Testament to his accuracy was the all-LBW hat trick he took against Northern Districts – I don't think anyone queried any of them. Starky always adds a competitive edge to whatever situation the team is in and his advice and support to me, always given in a quiet and positive manner (really!), was much appreciated.

Ben Tate's first year of Grade cricket turned out to be a fairly tough one for him. In other seasons he might have started in 5ths and been able to acclimatise a bit, but he ended up with the 4th Grade gig, which presented him with a wide variety of keeping challenges. Whether it was Haystacks, "Big Merv" Cowan, Apples, or especially, the "standing up" requirements of Starky and TB, it was always going to be a significant test for him. For the latter part of the season we decided that a swap with Pete Mitchell would be the best call for the moment. Ben's batting was solid and organised and some more work on his shotmaking options will see it develop into a useful asset at this level.

Pete Mitchell spent most of the season as 5th Grade chaperone but came up to help us out in the latter stages of the season. As well a tidy keeping job he played two absolutely critical innings for us, against Randwick and Wests, when the finals pressure was at its most intense.

Chris Jameson is another player now balancing bigger family responsibilities with his work and cricket, with the result that the trek in from the outer suburbs to training is rather less attractive or indeed possible these days. In fact by the end of the season he was able to proudly boast that he hadn't practiced once this season! Fortunately his particularly enigmatic brand of batting (the better the bowling, the better he bats), combined with his experience, is still capable of performing satisfactorily at this level without the work going in.

By his own admission David Ross' bowling was extremely underdone this season due to school commitments and when he was brought on to bowl it was with the understanding that anything could happen. That said, he finished the season with a nice shape on it and some hard work will make next year very interesting for him and all of us. His batting was far more "together", with his technique sound and his concentration excellent (despite doing his best to upset it by sledging fieldsmen!). Although our personnel didn't allow it, I would have happily batted him in the top six. A true team player and one of our better fieldsmen (which is not necessarily a huge rap!).

Rob Bennett made a comeback after a few seasons off and found it difficult to get back into a batting rhythm – I imagine this could easily happen when a player returns to the level he had played at before, without picking up a bat for a long time. A little bit of luck and a long innings early on might have sorted things out but unfortunately it didn't happen and he had to wait until he was in 5ths before he got some serious time in the middle. He was one of our more reliable fieldsmen.

After a couple of seasons of not playing Simon Cowan started in 5ths and displayed a continuous improvement in his bowling throughout the season, ultimately establishing himself in 3rds. His time in 4ths was characterised by an ability to knock openers over and a deep-seated hatred of delivering anything that anyone could think about driving.

At any given moment, and usually about once an over, Mark Appleton was capable of bowling something that wouldn't be out of place in a game of 2nds. If he could "up" the percentage a bit (or a lot!) he could wave goodbye to cricket at this level for a while. At times he bowled with good pace and made some openers look pretty poor – at other times it was the opposite, although it would have to be said that Apples often bowled without the luck that can make a big difference to your numbers. His most impressive spells were probably with the old ball, often into the wind and against well-set batsmen – handy attributes if you are play half of your games at Dave Phillips.

The welcome re-appearance of Gary Fuss bolstered our attack at the end of the season. Nothing much had changed with Fussy since we last saw him a couple of seasons ago, except he seemed even fitter!

To finish, I would like to thank Barry Ross who is an added bonus for whichever captain picks his son. To have someone around attending to the scoring and the many other little things that normally make captaincy more difficult was just fantastic and made it a much more enjoyable season for me, and I'm sure, the rest of the team.

FIFTH GRADE REPORT

At the start of the season, with so many younger players showing up to pre-season we knew the composition of 5th grade 2003/4 would be different to seasons past. Gone are the likes of Stark, Taylor, Gerber and Co, replaced with unknowns such as Robson, S, Matthews and Winder. Traditionally 5's has been the flagship of UNSWCC. This year was seen as a year of nurturing and developing the next generation of UNSWCC first graders.

The opening game of the season against Parramatta was a comprehensive and confidence boosting win for our young side. However as the season progressed the lack of experience and the absence of one or two senior players in the side became apparent in close losses to Wests, Hawkesbury and Norths. If a few of these results had gone our way they our confidence would have lifted as well as having us well in the race for a semi final spot.

One night over a few Boags and another soft Waratah's loss we calculated that fifth grade had at least 33 players take the field throughout the season. Some of the stand out performers of the season were:

Sam Robson:

Very consistent with bat and ball and showed great composure in all situations. Needs to work on his sledging, although his cricket theories in slips are not as outrageous and frequent as is his fathers. Will play first grade by the time he his 16.

Adam and Ian Beach:

Both very enthusiastic in the field and both showed the benefits of attending training regularly. Adam showed good technique as an opening batsman. Ian's offspin often kept the opposition batsmen pinned down and bought us back into many games. Both should press for spots in higher grades next season.

Ashlee (Bullwinkle)Azhar:

Showed with a dashing and not so chance-less 200, that he can hit the ball hard and far. Should play higher grades if he can improve his concentration and patience.

Dave Kachor:

Kach always bowled a consistent line and length with nice movement both ways. Took a step up this year with improved maturity, helping out with the younger guys.

Jungles and Fussy:

The Elder Statesmen of the side. Fussy added much needed spark to the side with his bowling and dashing digs at No 11. Jungles once again showed his experience by consistently contributing with bat and ball, while also leading by example in the field with his enthusiasm. Thanks go to both for their assistance on and off the field.

It would be re-miss of us not to include a "Jungleism" in the report. It was a game at DP against an unknown opponent, Jungle was bowling from the Bonnie Doon GC end to some young punk. After going for twenty odd in this particular over he approached Pete and said "You may as well bring someone else on, I'm not going to bowl if this guy is going to play those types of cricket shots".

With their first year of grade cricket behind them, the younger cricketers will show the benefits of the season and should be much improved players for the club as they push for higher honours next season.

Both Pete and Rob would like to thank all those involved in fifth grade this season, with special thanks to Disco for his support and to Jebby for giving us quality wickets each week.

POIDEVIN GRAY SHIELD REPORT

I believe that in most cases you make your own luck. But then there's the uncontrollables. Those times in a game where an opposing player does something brilliant, an umpire's call goes the other way, or the ball shoots along the ground and knocks you over. All you can do in those situations is put them behind you, and continue to work on your game, improve the areas that you need to improve in, and wait for it to turn around.

Unfortunately for the PG's side in the last 2 years, it hasn't turned around. A bloke like Mitch O'Connor, who has the ability to destroy any 1st grade attack in the comp, scored 99 runs at 19.80 in 5 games. It's easy to speculate that Mitch may not have placed a great deal of emphasis on his PG's innings. But in saying that, I saw every one of Mitch's innings, and he played no differently to how he would play on a Saturday.

His season typified the season that we had as a team.

At 1-100 chasing 200 against Manly, we were bowled out for 196 on the last ball of the innings.

Defending 160 against Parramatta, we had them 8-70 then the rain came. The quicks couldn't stand up, the spinners couldn't hold the ball, and their number 10 played a brilliant innings to get them home.

Against Campbelltown, an awesome chanceless innings from Jarrad Burke had them at one stage on 200 after about 30 overs. But after dismissing him, we restricted them to 269. We got off to a flyer to be 1-100 off about 16 overs, but finished about 90 runs short, all for 184 in the 41st.

Sydney Uni was similar, bowled out for 233 in 43 overs chasing 250 odd and Fairfield bowled out for 160 in the 45th chasing 208.

But from those losses emerged some good performances, and some encouraging signs for the uni in years to come.

Jimmy Day was consistent all year with bat and ball, and developed quickly into a senior player after coming to the club late last season. His contributions with the bat against Fairfield and Parramatta were both times when we were in trouble and he was really needed by the side. His bowling was the most consistent of all the bowlers used this year, and I could always rely on Jimmy to bowl to the fields that we set. When he develops the confidence in 1st grade that he shows in PG's, Jimmy will be a regular contributor to 1st grades success in years to come.

Even though Mitch O'Connor didn't have the season he wanted to, his assistance with leading the side was second to none, and he will do a more than competent job leading the side next year. Mitch's bowling this year was as reliable to call on as Jimmy's. I regularly used Mitch to close out our innings, and the fact that as a leg spinner his economy rate was about 5 ½, shows what a great job he did. His bowling got more consistent throughout the season, culminating in him finally showing his potential in the final 1st grade game of the year taking 3 for.

Robbie Dooley's emergence from an outsider to an odds on choice for opening the bowling was one of the highlights for me for the season. Hooley's another one that has the ability to develop into a regular 1st grader and after that its up to him. Raw pace is something you can't be taught and Hooley's got it. His work with the best fast bowling coach in the country has got him now putting the ball where he wants 5 out of 6 times an over, and the more exposure he has to better players the better that figure will get. If Hooley can back himself, the sky is the limit.

Our horizontal striped jacket wearing friend didn't seem to place a huge emphasis on being 100% ready to play on a Sunday morning. But even with his laid back, "go away Suey" attitude, Alf was the first spinner I threw the ball to if he'd turned up. Congratulations Alf on graduating with honours from PG's.

Roger Smith's keeping was pretty good for us all season. He took some great catches and rarely dropped any or missed any stumpings. He was elevated to the opening batting position half way through the season, and did a good job without getting a big score.

Dave Ross didn't get many opportunities but all his contributions were high quality. The highlight was his spell against Campbelltown, slowing them right down after being a late replacement for Alf. Dave always showed plenty of commitment in the field, and was a great bloke to have around the side.

Alex Braid's innings in the last game showed that he's got the goods to eventually play first grade. He didn't get many chances this year but hopefully next year he'll have less interruptions and be able to secure a spot in the PG's top 6 for the whole season.

Ian Foster had a pretty quiet year this season in PG's despite scoring 200 odd in a grade game. Fossy is another who always gave his all in the field, and he was always there to offer me a few good ideas throughout the season

One of the problems with having 4 all rounders in our side was that blokes like Chilli, Bullwinkle, Benny Clark, Jordan Roche, Mitch Smith, Craig Castle, Simon Spears and Ben Tate, had very limited opportunity to perform in PG's this year. These blokes often found themselves playing and not batting or bowling. Actually they always batted. Thanks boys for your contributions throughout the year

A big thanks to Rae for scoring for us when she could, and to Mustard when she couldn't. Suey and Crewers did a fantastic job managing the side. Suey doing the dirty work during the week, and Crewers on game day doing whatever had to be done. It meant that I could tear my hair out with what was happening on the field rather than worrying about team sheets, balls, ringing the scores through, getting someone to do the canteen etc!!

Thanks to all who were a part of the PG's side, players, managers, scorers, selectors and the parents that also came to support. It was a pleasure to be involved with you all. For those boys staying on, good luck next year, I'll drop in on a Sunday morning on my way home from the Palace to see how you're going.....

Dan Christian

Skipper Dan christian sending one down in a PG game at the Village Green this season. Dan was Club and PG player of the year for season 2003/04 and recently won himself a "Rookie" contract with NSW Cricket. Look out for a bit of dabbling on the leg spin front this next season – is there nothing this man can't do?

Is this man the next of the truly classic UNSW cricketers – good player with lots of potential, subtle displays of undoubted intelligence, but the psychopathic instincts of a Paddy Gratten-Smith or Neville Jansen. Rob Doolie contributed well for the Club this year and proved a valuable strike weapon in 3rds and PGs (seen here).

Australian University Championships

Tournament hosts UNSW went through undefeated to take gold and become National Intersvarsity Champions at the 2003 Australian University Games held in December last year.

The new-look squad was a blend of experienced UNSW players along with seven newcomers, with representatives from UNSW, Randwick-Petersham, UTS-Balmain, and the Easts Cricket Clubs.

UNSW breezed through the three preliminary rounds with successive wins over Macquarie University, The University of South Australia, and The University of New England. Macquarie University were crushed by nine wickets as UNSW chased down a mediocre total of 179 (Chris Thomas 4/22, Jimmy Byrne 3/44) in 35 overs (John Maccallum 86*, Sohail Mohideen 56*). On day two UNSW shuffled the batting order but still managed to chase down the USA total of 152 in 25 overs (Michael Watson 43, Jimmy Day 31, Chris Thomas 4/12, Will Sommerville 4/42). On the third day UNSW managed to overcome the after-effects of a significant social program to crush UNE, this time achieving 2/189 in 40 overs (David Mitchell 100, John Maccallum 45, Sohail Mohideen 26*) chasing 188 (Nigel Singh 2/24, Omar Zafar 2/28, David Mann 2/30, Will Sommerville 2/43).

The final was to be a much anticipated affair, with UNSW meeting old rivals and the only other undefeated team in the tournament, the University of Sydney. With the University of Sydney batting first on a deck with a bit in it for each side, skipper Chris Thomas ripped the heart out of what had been a dominant batting order, taking 5/20 including the scalps of Ashley Cowan and James Ryan who had each averaged almost 100 for the tournament. Aided by fine spells by Will Sommerville (2/36) and Nigel Singh (3/31 closing out the innings), along with a spectacular outfield catch by Nathan Ball, the Thomas-skipped team dismissed The University of Sydney for 151 off 44 overs. Nick Dowsley played a fine lone hand for The University of Sydney, scoring 81. UNSW never looked in trouble chasing down the small total, with openers David Mitchell (65) and John Maccallum (33*) setting a great foundation, and Sohail Mohideen (42*) at number three setting a cracking pace to beat any chance of rain ruining the day for UNSW. The end result was a nine wicket win for UNSW, achieving the required total in only 31 overs for what was a well deserved and completely dominant win.

UNSW swept all awards before them, with Chris Thomas deservedly taking out the Player of the Tournament along with Best Bowler awards, taking 14 wickets at an incredible average of 6.29. John Maccallum took out the Best Batter award scoring 164 runs to be dismissed only once, whilst Michael Watson won the Best Fielder award with five catches and two stumpings.

Further accolades were to come for the UNSW squad with Chris Thomas, John Maccallum, Sohail Mohideen, and David Mitchell all winning positions in the Australian Combined Universities Team set to play the NSW Colts at the SCG the following day. Unfortunately rain prevented any play in what would have been a life highlight for all the boys selected.

Special thanks must go to Jeff Hargraves and Helen Bryson for a fantastically well organised tournament, along with Geoff Lawson for his role as patron of the tournament and helping to organise the game set to be played against the colts at the SCG.

DUBBO "COUNTRY TOUR" 2003

Our Club has a proud history of country tours extending back many years. There are dozens of stories: a hungover Jungle driving out to the middle of a ground to toss, hanging out the window and introducing himself to the opposing captain with "G'day I'm Jim Robson.....we'll bat"; an inebriated Dubbo-ite keeping us in suspense while identifying Henry as Geoff...er don't tell me, I know who you are.....Geoff.....don't tell me.....Jeff Thomson!; the rule opposition teams had to agree to on one tour that, due to his fairly average catching ability, if you hit Snake Rooter on the full you were out. Very Uni stuff.

Sadly, such tours ground to something of a halt in the 90s. Maybe too much energy was spent by the guys who usually organised these things on stuff like surviving in the comp, dealing with various grounds nightmares and cleaning up the afterbirth of people, inside and outside the club, thinking we were history. Or perhaps it was just getting over the embarrassment of the Maitland six-a-side in 1995, where the "glamour side" from the big smoke, destined to play against a team of ex-Test players in the final, struggled to perform in the early rounds only hours after bringing an all night drinking session to a close. We never got another invite.

It took the vision of Tim "Massive" Cox to resurrect the magnificent no-holds-barred fun of hopping in a bus to leave home, work and study behind to do nothing more than satisfy every hedonistic urge normally and so tragically suppressed by everyday life.

We got away to a slow start when a 5pm departure from the VG blew out to 6.15. However, after a couple of icy ones, we pulled out of Gate 14 with much the same feeling that the great Rob Stark had in that oft recalled scene where he shuts the front door on "the Dragon" on a Saturday morning, packet of Chocolate Montes tucked under his arm: life was truly great.

As we left Bandit was on the blower: "You're definitely coming but you're still at home.....okay". This was the beginning of a memorable couple of hours for Crewcut, or as Bandit put it, "another Crewcut debacle". He had suffered a packing disaster, leaving his wallet or his undies or something at home and would meet us at the base of the Blue Mountains – later rather than sooner as it would turn out as Sydney, or more particularly Parramatta Road, turned on a top draw traffic snarl for us to inch through. Fortunately Massive had made sure the bus was equipped with every mod con anyone could ever want – a beer bong and a piss funnel. In the initial stages the bong got the heaviest workout, but up the front of the bus the piss funnel sat smugly, secure in the knowledge that as the party heated up, it would be the most popular item with the crowd.

The beer bong turned out to be a device that allowed the rapid emptying of a bottle of beer using a human throat as a drain. It also had some comedic uses, such as hooking it up to a mineral water and passing it down to Ferls. Ha ha. Fuck he must have had a top time on the bus.

Anyhow, the sun was setting by the time we picked up Crewcut which, with a few beers tucked safely into most passengers, helped create a surreal atmosphere as he was passed the bong and instructed to use it before he settled into a seat. And bugger it, do it twice for being late.

Down she went twice, amid enthusiastic applause and encouragement for a third. But no, Crewers didn't want to speak.....he didn't want to open his mouth at all.....with a shake of his head and a hand gesture that would normally go with a "wait, NO!", he reached to open a window. First spew on the trip, before he even sat down. Good work Crewers – unless of course you were Disco who picked up a thick outside edge of the spray. If you were going to pick someone in the Club to do this to you probably couldn't do better than Disco. He wore it like a badge of honour and got teary eyed when it reminded him of his Barr Turn speech all those years ago.

It was probably about 9.30 by the time we got to Lithgow and that could only mean one thing – KFC (except for Thommo who decided to do the five food groups at Pizza Hut). Fifty-odd pieces of chook and a visit to the (occupied) Ladies by crowd favourite Jimmy Day Jimmy Day Jimmy Day later, we hit the road again, suddenly aware of how much the bus stank and assured by the experts on board that we had another three hours to go. Would the piss last? Would the piss funnel last? Would Olly play something decent on the ghetto blaster? No, yes and yes.

The Higgins music collection was an eclectic mix ranging from genius to complete crap. How sad it was when he followed up several Chilli Pepper masterpieces with a some shithead's cover version of the Moving Pictures tribute to selfishness so mercilessly pumped by Molly Meldrum in the late 70s. "Have you heard the original Olly?" "Original? This is the original mate."

The piss funnel presented its own challenges. The bus was hooting along and to stand up in it was pretty much like standing up in any other bus – a bit wobbly. It was certainly a test of your quad, urethral and mental control to successfully use the funnel (directed out through the front door onto the highway) without spilling a drop. From the smell, a few blokes failed. Carso deserved some sort of compensation for patiently sitting in the closest seat to the action and he probably had a bit too much information at his disposal by the end of the trip.

Between Bathurst and Orange the bus was at its loudest and two people deserved some sympathy in the circumstances (maybe three including the sober Ferls) – the very patient driver (Mocca's brother Ryan) and the person sitting next to Tubby. The Tubster's blatherings brought back memories of the 2001 UK Tour and it was somewhat fitting that the bloke next to him was in fact Englishman Bill Kirby, who eventually ran to the back of the bus screaming "this is sucking the lifeblood out of me!" en route to nicking my fucking seat.

We got into Dubbo in a fairly subdued state at 1.15, much to the disappointment of the hotel staff who had assumed we would get there at a reasonable hour and drink shitloads. Through guilt we forced another couple down before deciding that with a forecast of 40 degrees for the game the next day it might be prudent to drink some water and get some sleep.

The forecast was right so most of us spent the morning dashing from shadow to shadow and searching for air conditioning. Before long we stood in the middle of Victoria Park No.1 looking at a flat grassy wicket and the unmistakable gait in the distance of the Dubbo Cricket Association Secretary, Warren Saunders.

There was some contrast in the respective warm ups of the two sides. The city slickers were all uniforms and slick drills; the locals were a tad more casual, perhaps so in the knowledge that energy conservation was paramount at this stage and anyone who thought that they needed to warm up in the conditions was a lunatic.

Ha ha, tourists bat first. Resplendent in canary yellow dacks and bumble bee jacket, the Carsonator went through the motions of a toss he was always going to win (although the suggestion that such an arrangement might exist seemed to horrify the attending local press – hopefully the headline wasn't "DODGY TOSS" in the Dubbo Liberal the next day).

Early on we had our moments against an enthusiastic attack and when the Carsonator steered a catch to gully with the score already at 3-48 it could well have gotten ugly. However the chance went down and, with Apollo Creed, Carso engineered a small recovery before being seriously barbecued for 20. In fact he was burnt to a cinder. Then came a high quality partnership between Apollo (73 off 90 balls) and ex-local boy making good Mocca (91 off 79 balls). They put on a lazy 152 at a fair clip and handy cameos from Jimmy Day Jimmy Day Jimmy Day, Neilo and Bill Kirby got us to a more than respectable 290 in our 50.

At the break a lot of red meat went south and the crowd started to build up. The sun started going down and the lights started going on, turning mere cricketers into statuesque super-athletes. Bowling looked quick, throws looked flat or huge or both, catches looked magnificent and some of the Dubbo openers' shots looked like they had been launched into outer space. I'm not sure what Massive has been up to around that town in the past (possibly a bit less than he got up to in the north of England), but there was something almost personal in how the openers went after him. "Take that for porking my sister at the B & S.....take that for grasscutting me at The Farm.....take that not letting me copy your homework....." – of course I'm just guessing.

They got away to an absolute flier and were 0-79 after 11. The locals seemed as astonished about what was happening as we were and one obviously long-suffering spectator seemed almost pissed off: "If we were playing Parkes, we'd be 4 for 40", he said. Anyway we brought on the wily English pro Rob Ferley in the hope that something would change. It did – they decided to try to hit him twice as far as they had been hitting everyone else. With each attempt to send the ball into orbit Ferls added a little bit more air and it wasn't long before order was restored via a stumping which almost qualified as a run out. 1-89.

From then on runs continued to come at a steady rate but so did the wickets. It's a nice way to play, Dubbo style, no pissing about and no late finishes, one way or another. They were out for 185 in the 37th, having endured several hours of drunken barracking from Higgins and Britto, positioned close to an esky the size of a bathtub in the Warren Carson Stand. Jimmy Day Jimmy Day Jimmy Day picked up 4-42 and some longing gazes from the local lasses, Thommo got 3-42 and Massive did some nice repair work on his figures towards the end to finish with 2-52.

During the match we renewed some old acquaintances (Wazza, Shep, Springer, Ben Day and the long-suffering Carson parents) and made some new ones, most notably the Dubbo scorer who seemed to be running everything and used the time between balls to fire directions at her husband on what needed doing and to sledge her incredibly hardworking eight year old grandson. When Ferls nicked an unplayable for a blob, she whipped out a stamp saying "You Can Do Better" and planted it on the scorebook against his name. She was wild. Crewcut was overwhelmed by her when he had a crack at scoring.

We sang the Club Song, presentations and speeches were duly made in the pavilion, and we were shown a rugby team photo where one of the players had his dick out. Then it was off to the pub for something different – a drink.

The next few hours were dedicated to alcohol and theories. The more we had of one, the more outlandish the other became. Ferls was the exception – alcohol had nothing to do with how outlandish his theories were. Things got messier and messier as the night went on, particularly in the area of shots, which were lined up and devoured with a passion so rarely present in any endeavour at our club. There must have been some sore wallets to go with some sore heads the next morning.....well no, actually that morning.

Disco was the first to retire when reminded that his flight, which he was taking so that he could get his kids to school, was leaving in about 5 hours. Hope he didn't breathe alcohol all over the kindy teachers. Next, some other soft types pulled the pin at 3.30. I was one of them and I'm glad I was – the sight of Bill Kirby purchasing a bottle of rum and heading for the hotel terrace with some other blokes who had also made purchases was too scary to contemplate for long.

Thommo and I caught the 9.30 flight later that morning and circled over Dubbo and its lovely ground whilst I presume the rest of the party slept. Therefore for the rest of this report I am relying on hearsay. Nevertheless I am informed that the following occurred on the Thursday:

- Eric Zehner, asleep in his hotel room when the bus was ready to leave, was nearly left behind. Only a casual "Where's Hagar?" on the way out led to his discovery
- Not a drop of alcohol was consumed on the way home
- There were three more spews on the way home, including Olly over Neilo.

Perhaps David Carson best summarised this very successful excursion when responding to an e-mail enquiry about the news that we had incurred a $500 bus damage bill:

Tour damage includes, but is not limited to:

1. Seven bus tigers.
2. One pot plant piss and pot plant tiger,
3. Several thooooouuuusand beers.
4. 14 kg of the colonels best per man.
5. Zero porks.
6. 2 thousand renditions of " What About Me?"
7. 873 renditions of the number one classic below, commencing with "Jiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiimmy Day...."
8. One damaged rear panel to the venga bus.

We must do it again sometime.

JEBBY

Mitch O'Connor is one of our plethora of Dubbo "imports" and could be a player to ewatch for the future. His leggies (seen here in a PGs game at the Village Green) looked like they may have been coming good at the end of the season which will be a very handy addition to his quality batting displays, particularly during the start to middle part of the season.

LADIES' TEAM REPORT

Unfortunately the Ladies Team was forced to withdraw from it's competition just prior to the commencement of season 2003-04.

Stay Tuned for bigger things.

CAREER STATISTICS

The career statistics provided are limited to the details of those players who have achieved designated milestones in runs, wickets or dismissals.

At this stage in our Club's relatively short existence (particularly at a Grade level) these milestones have been set at the below indicated levels. For more comprehensive career statistics please refer to the 1998/99 Annual Report, or for the complete details of every club representative, please refer to the Club's database which is (hopefully by now) contained on the UNSWCC Website.

It should be noted that "milestone" thresholds have not been detailed for the 1st Grade one-day statistics or the Womens' career statistics (please also note that the Women's statistics have not been updated from last year due to the unavailability of their statistics for inclusion at the time this Report needed to go to print). This is due to the relatively brief existence of these respective competitions.

The UNSWCC would like to again recognise the enormous amount of work and effort put in by Greg Livingstone in compiling and maintaining the career statistics database after many years of neglect by the Club in maintaining these records. Also, thanks to Darren Sue, our "Stats Nazi" (as Starky likes to call him). The comprehensive stats throughout this report are entirely his efforts and he is teaming with Livo on the Career Statistics as well. He is performing an invaluable job that the entire Club (past and present) can and will benefit from (certainly has made the Annual Report Editor's job much easier). Part of the reason he received the Clubman of the Year Award this year.

CLUB RECORDS

Team and partnership records apply to the years in the Sydney Grade Competition - from and including the season 1973-74. For records prior to the 1972-73 season refer to the 1972-73 Annual Report Municipal and Shires Competition. Performances in teams for which not all club members are eligible (Poidevin-Gray and Interschool) are not included - details can be obtained in past annual reports. Records for the Women's teams are still being collated. A minimum of 250 runs or 15 wickets is required to qualify for batting or bowling records. Only the initial record maker is identified for individuals and partnerships in the event of tied records.
